

WHO LIVES HERE?

Birds and Raptors

Marjorie Perry Nature Preserve is a wonderful place to enjoy the peace and beauty of nature. While enjoying this tranquil place, you can hear mallards quacking; robins and chickadees chirping; and the songs of the meadowlark and yellow warbler. Look up to catch a glimpse of a hawk or eagle soaring overhead. Early in the morning, you might spot a white pelican beside one of the ponds. See how many birds you can identify!

Mallard Duck

American Robin

Black-capped Chickadee

Red-tailed Hawk

Magpie

Yellow Warbler

Great Blue Heron