Do you love color? As artists, color is one of the most powerful tools we have. Used well, color can be used to make our paintings more personal and exciting.

In this colorful class, we'll review color terms and theory as well as ways to easily achieve color harmony in your work. This class will also stretch you to explore the color wheel through fun exercises and assignments. As always we'll work on simple, but powerful small daily paintings to help us grow our color skills quickly! This class is also great if you'd like to explore abstract painting in addition to your representational subjects.
