

Polymer Clay

Demonstration and Workshop

Curtis Arts & Humanities Center
2349 East Orchard Road, Greenwood Village, CO 80121

What is Polymer Clay and Can I have Fun with It?

Join artist Gerri Calpin for a one hour demonstration that will focus on how to use and make works of art using polymer clay. Gerri will demonstrate basic techniques and the equipment used in working with polymer clay. There will be plenty of samples for participants to view and time for questions.

Thursday, March 23, 2017

7:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Presented by Gerri Calpin

FREE

Please reserve your spot by registering on-line at www.greenwoodvillage.com/registration

Polymer Clay Introduction to Basics

This hands-on workshop will introduce artists of all artistic levels to the basics of working with polymer clay. Students will work with one color of clay and design a large button using tools and stamps. Throughout the process artist Gerri Calpin will answer questions, show bench work setup, storage and finishing procedures. All students will get to bake their buttons in an oven and show off their polymer clay creations.

Saturday, March 25, 2017

10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

1 hour lunch break

$100

10% senior discount for ages 65 and older

All supplies provided

Instructed by Gerri Calpin

Class is for ages 16 and older

15 student limit

Register on-line at www.greenwoodvillage.com/registration

For more information call the Curtis Arts & Humanities Center at 303-797-1779