Curtis Arts and Humanities Center Now Open on Saturdays

The Curtis Arts and Humanities Center located in Greenwood Village has expanded its hours to include Saturdays. The Center will remain open during its regular hours of Monday through Friday from 8:30am to 4:30pm and will now include Saturdays from 10am-4pm. “In an effort to better serve our community and create increased access to the arts I thought it was important to be open during the weekend,” said Chris Stevens, Cultural Arts Coordinator for the City of Greenwood Village. In addition to the expanded hours of operation the Curtis Center will also look to increase educational programming and art activities on Saturdays. More information about the center can be found at www.greenwoodvillage.com/curtis.

About the Curtis Arts and Humanities Center

Originally built as a one room schoolhouse in 1914 to serve ten local students, the historic, brick building is now home to the Curtis Arts and Humanities Center. The Curtis School was formally opened in 1914 with no running electricity or water. The 1 acre of land the school sits on was originally donated by area resident Mary J. Curtis in 1901. In 1991 the building was dedicated as the Curtis Arts and Humanities Center. Today, the Curtis Center continues to be a learning center for the arts. The center offers art instruction, rotating visual arts exhibits, lectures and the occasional performance. The Curtis Arts and Humanities Center is owned and operated by the City of Greenwood Village.
